

Social and Personal

ANOTHER notable gathering of fashionable society this week was the reception given at the Commonwealth Club yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock. The affair was a "Ladies' Day," and the entire club was thrown open to the visitors. All during the reception hours the club-rooms were filled with a handsomely gowned throng, and the leading members of Richmond society were present. Baskets of pink carnations, caught with gauze ribbon, decorated the tables, and red roses and quantities of beautiful ferns and flowers banked the mantels and windows of the spacious club-rooms. The walls were curtained in smilax, and the orchestra which played throughout the entertainment, was screened by palms and smilax.

The patronesses for the afternoon included: Mesdames Alfred T. Harris, Jr., Thomas Atkinson, Ashton Starker, S. E. Smith, Charles E. Hollings, Levin Joyner, Barton H. Grundy, Saunders Hobson, Lewis Aylett, J. McGuire, Jr., R. H. Lindsey, Thomas Bolling, Jr., J. Jordan Leake, Thomas Branch McAdams, John Kerr Branch, Robert G. Legh, Jr., Graham B. Hobson, J. Scott Parrish, A. P. Wilmer, J. T. Anderson, William H. White, Henry Cabell, Hiram M. Smith, C. B. Lathrop, Henry E. Baskerville, William H. Masie, J. Cloyd Kent, J. Nelson Steele, Jr., Warren P. Taylor, Frederick William Scott.

Affairs of Yesterday.
Mrs. Victor Williams entertained at a charming card party last evening at her home, 29 West Grace Street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram M. Smith. The decorations were in red flowers.
Miss Elsie Harrison was another hostess of yesterday, entertaining at a luncheon given at the Country Club in honor of her house guest, Miss Nancy Brune, of Baltimore. The table was arranged with a centerpiece of pink carnations and mignonette. Miss Brune will make her debut in Baltimore next winter.

Norfolk Wedding.
A marriage of interest throughout Virginia and Maryland was quietly solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William A. Thom, in Stockley Gardens, Norfolk, when her daughter, Miss Lucy Latane Thom, became the bride of Clarence A. Neff, of Norfolk. Dr. Francis C. Steinmetz, of Christ Episcopal Church, officiating.
The rooms were beautifully decorated.

rated in palms, potted plants, white roses and narcissus. The ceremony took place before an improvised altar, which was lighted with tapers and ornamented with white flowers.
The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Alfred P. Thom, of Washington, D. C., wore a handsome gown of white satin, on train, trimmed with rose point lace. Her only ornament was a pearl and diamond pendant, and she carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms.

Miss Annie Thom, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and her only attendant. She wore an exquisite gown of white crepe meteor, and carried pink roses. Braden Vandeventer was best man. A reception, limited to relatives and intimate friends, followed the wedding, after which Mr. and Mrs. Neff left for a wedding trip. Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Thom, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Minnie, of Savannah, Ga.; Mrs. Gratz Myers and Masters George, Fred and Gratz Myers, Jr., of Englewood, N. J.; Miss Rachel Urquhart, of Richmond, and Miss Jean Leonard, of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Broome, of Norfolk, were hosts of a very pretty reception Monday afternoon at their home in Raleigh Square, in honor of their sister, Miss Evelyn Williams, of Richmond. The hours of calling were from 4 to 7 o'clock, and the house was decorated in narcissus, poinsettias and receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Broome were Miss Williams and Mrs. William M. Tallaferr, of this city. Mrs. W. T. Walker, Jr., served punch, and those serving in the dining room included Misses Emily Taylor, Mary Wilcox, Julia Downer, Fannie Pannett, Anna Walker and Lizzie Brander, of Richmond.

Bridge Party This Afternoon.

Miss Rowe Entertains.
Miss Mary Lee Rowe was hostess of a delightful card party at her home, 127 West Clay Street, on Saturday evening. Supper was served at the little tables after the game, and the rooms were decorated in holly and cedar for the occasion.

Misses Krug Honored.
Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Krug entertained very attractively in their home, 822 West Marshall Street, Monday night, in honor of their daughters, Misses Lizzie and Rosa Krug. The parlors were decorated in out flowers and the dining room was in green and red. Misses Lizzie and Rosa Krug, who received with their sisters, Misses Gertrude and Kate Krug, were in pink frocks over pink messaline. Miss Katie Krug presided at the punch bowl, and wore a gown of green silk, trimmed in lace. Miss Hazel Tate, who also assisted in doing the honors of the occasion, wore a pale blue silk frock.

Those present included Misses Lizzie and Rosa Krug, Emma Watkins, Elsie Gilman, Grace Robertson, Hazel Asher, Ruth Sims, Edith Watkins, Hazel Tate, Grace Sore, Ethel Fowler, Fannie Davis, Katie Asher, Gertrude and Katie Krug, Messrs. Parsons, Roy Dudley, Jr., Arthur C. Johnson, Rupert J. Krug, Ben Robertson, George M. Davis, John Halbert, Frank Groves, Stewart Gilman and Garland Fowler.

WED IN WASHINGTON.
Two Virginia Couples Go to Capital for Ceremony.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, D. C., January 4.—We realized that all the world loves a lover, and in union there is strength, said Arch G. Brown, twenty-three years old, one of two young Virginians who came to Washington to-day with their intended brides and were married at 11 o'clock by the Rev. H. S. France. The others were Miss Nettie M. Carwell, twenty-one; Hugh Myers, twenty-two, and Miss Edna Miller, twenty-one. They are all from Augusta county. They have been lifelong friends, and when Miss Carwell, about eight months ago, said "Yes" to Arch G. Brown while visiting at the home of Miss Miller, she went into the dining room where Mr. Myers and Miss Miller were preparing Sunday evening tea, and broke the glad news.

Mr. Myers, immediately the happy pair had left the room, argued that he and Miss Miller could not be outdone, so when all were seated at the table he announced that Miss Miller had agreed to marry him.

Curle-Aumack.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
West Point, Va., January 4.—John Bertram Curle and Louisa Russell Aumack were married in the local Methodist Church at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

"O, Promise Me" was sung by Miss Nora Egeron, of Baltimore. Mrs. A. Julian Haggy presided at the organ. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Aumack, and the bridegroom, Mr. Curle, was escorted by his brother, Mr. Curle. The bride wore a gown of white messaline, and carried a bouquet of white and yellow carnations. The bridesmaids were Misses Susie Lee Eastwood, Dora Aumack, May Tamm, of Baltimore, and Edith Hodge. The first two wore blue messaline, with crystal trimmings, and the others wore pink messaline, crystal trimmings, and all of them carried white carnations and ferns. J. Vivian Curle, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Sutherland De Pargues, Peter Shelton, Moncure McCanna, and S. S. Daniels. The bride was given away by her brother, William Andrew Aumack. The church was very handsomely decorated with palms and candles.

On Tuesday evening, the night before the marriage, a reception was given the bride party by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Aumack. The decorations at the home were very elaborate, the color scheme being red and green.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Ezgleston, the bride's pastor, on the Baltimore boat for an extended trip. On their return they will reside in West Point.

Graves-Davis.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., January 4.—Lee J. Graves, a prominent attorney of this city, and Miss Sallie Virginia Davis, daughter of Dr. J. W. Davis, of Spotsylvania county, will be married at the Jefferson Hotel, in Richmond, on Saturday, January 7, at 3:30 p. m. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. R. Aubrey Williams, pastor of the Baptist Church, of this city.

Shelton-Myers.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., January 4.—Harry Shelton, of McMullen's, Greene county, and Miss Bernice Myers, daughter of Henry Myers, of McMullen's, Greene county, were married Tuesday at Ruckersville, and left immediately after the ceremony for Washington and other Northern cities.

Taylor-Umboltz.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Buena Vista, Va., January 4.—In Bristol on Monday Miss Miriam Ballard, who was married to James Clyde Taylor, they left here Monday morning with the intention of going to Roanoke, but instead went to Bristol where they were married yesterday morning. Mrs. Taylor is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Umboltz. They will reside in Buena Vista.

MAKE UNIFORM RULE
States Desire to Have Interchangeable Pharmaceutical Certificates.
Uniformity in examinations for license to practice pharmacy was discussed yesterday at the conference held at the Capitol between representatives of the Boards of Pharmacy of Virginia, Maryland and Delaware. As long as each State works independently, it was realized, there will be confusion on the point of recognition of certificates when a pharmacist moves from one State to another.

The Virginia board has begun to check up the papers submitted at the examination held on Tuesday. Probably the results cannot be announced before to-morrow.

Blues' Commanders Ordered to Take Up Instruction.
Orders were issued yesterday by Major E. W. Bowles, retaining commission officers, for the Richmond High Infantry Blues Battalion to attend officers' schools on the second Monday night in each month at the academy. The first school will be on January 9.

The officers will take up the study of Sherman's map reading, using the Fort Leavenworth map. Minor's tactics will also be studied.

The orders say that no excuse other than physical incapacity will be accepted for absence from these schools.

GROOM GETS $6,500.
Pleasant Surprise Comes in Nature of Request From Grandmother.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., January 4.—Allen C. Hurst, an electrician employed in the Jefferson Theatre in this city, was married last Sunday, his bride being Miss Marie Donaldson, daughter of City Alderman Harry Donaldson. To-day Hurst received a letter from his aunt in England, stating that his grandmother, who died two years ago, had left him $6,500. The bridegroom's relatives have been searching for him ever since the death of his grandmother. The inheritance comes as a big surprise to Hurst.

LOGAN PROPERTY PURCHASED.
